

SCLG Special Networking Event

SCLG organized a special networking event in association with Face Middle East Fzc and Somero Enterprises at the World Trade Centre Club recently. The event attracted quite a good attendance of professionals from both the logistics and construction industries.

Andreas Dur, executive committee member of SCLG, welcomed the gathering, giving a brief on the activities of SCLG which included networking; educational and training programmes and publishing the Link magazine for industry professionals.

After that, Andrew Keen, Vice President, Somero Enterprises and Kevin Dare, Managing Director, Face Middle East Fzc made presentations on laying floors for the logistics industry. They spoke on how the floors had to be without "unfriendly" joints as to allow free movement of forklifts and other vehicles used in warehouses.

They said that the floor was arguably the most important part of the building, besides the roof in a warehouse. "It is the table on which all operations take place. Not only is it part of the structure, but also an integrated part of the materials handling system."

They mentioned about the formation of an alliance called "Construct-A-Slab" to promote the building of quality concrete floors. The alliance comprised Permaban Flooring Solutions; Somero Enterprises; Face Consultants; and Multiquip (UK) Ltd.
